

Harari Congress in Diaspora

To date, the Congress is satisfied with the level of awareness it has achieved. Nonetheless, it will continue to disseminate information regarding its progress and challenges to various Harari sites, community organizations and other Harari communication outlets. The Congress encourages and calls upon, in particular, Harari Women and the youth to participate and play a role at leadership level.

The current leadership of the Congress is committed to double its effort to make this organization a success. After all, this organization made its first move with the future generation in mind.
